Challenges regarding ICT faced in India

- One of the greatest problem faced is the installation of high cost machines for the exercise of ICT.
- Though the government of India provides grants, these grants are inadequate to meet the requirements of ICT.
- The software installation as well as renovation is a very costly procedure.
- Using of unlicensed software is also a very problematic and risky transaction.
- The condition in India is such that many learners are reluctant to use ICT and for some it is not easily accessible.
